

SUPPORT YOUTH FOOD SCIENCE ENTREPRENEURS

Join the UF/IFAS Department of Food Science & Human Nutrition and Taste of Immokalee in giving underprivileged youth a taste of careers in food science.

ABOUT THE FSHN EXPERIENTIAL PROGRAM

In an innovative and educational three-day program, Taste of Immokalee students travel to the University of Florida Food Science and Human Nutrition Department (FSHN) to experience higher education in food science and nutrition-related fields as well as engage in professional learning opportunities.

ABOUT TASTE OF IMMOKALEE

Since 2014, Taste of Immokalee has empowered youth in the second poorest community in Florida to achieve their goals by teaching business and leadership skills. Each year, high school students in Immokalee, Florida use local resources to create and sell food products, with profits returning to the community.
