Course Description

Opportunity to integrate principles of medical nutrition therapy into clinical practice. Prereq: admission to Master of Science-Dietetic Internship (or permission of instructor) and DIE 6241.

Additional Course Information

Part 2 of a two-semester course designed to provide students enrolled in the Masters/Dietetic Internship Program with the opportunity to use critical thinking skills and integrate the theories and principles of medical nutrition therapy (MNT) into clinical practice. Case studies and an evidence-based medicine approach to practice will facilitate students to integrate and apply their knowledge of nutrition, dietetics, metabolism and physiology, with the ultimate goal of producing students who can effectively plan and manage the nutritional care of a variety of patients. Topics include enteral and parenteral nutrition, cardiovascular, pulmonary, gastrointestinal and liver disease, critical care, HIV/AIDS, and oncology.

Fundamental Concepts

Recommending appropriate medical nutrition therapy requires:

1. Understanding physiology, metabolism and pathology
2. Critical thinking skills
3. Applying evidence-based nutrition principles
4. Knowing where to find information and how to apply information.

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will:

- apply critical thinking skills
- discuss the theoretical basis for nutrition/medical intervention strategies with the anatomical, physiological and/or biochemical changes that occur in diseases/conditions covered in this course
- prepare to integrate the theories and principles of medical nutrition therapy into clinical practice
- evaluate social, nutritional, medical, laboratory, pharmacologic and other relevant patient data for all assigned case studies and recommend appropriate intervention strategies
- develop and justify appropriate recommendations for the management of patients with diseases/conditions covered in this course
- use medical terminology and appropriate documentation styles to communicate patients' nutritional status

- use and critique medical/nutrition reference materials and begin to build a professional library
- practice the process of providing nutritional care based on an evidence-based approach
- develop problem-solving skills
- give and receive constructive feedback

Required Resource Materials

- Nelms M, Sucher KP, Lacey K. Nutrition Therapy and Pathophysiology 4th Ed. Cengage Learning, 2019 or similar textbook
- Medical nutrition reference handbook, “black book”. This is a pocket-sized reference for information to be used in clinical practice. It could be a self-made, purchased reference or electronic.
- Extensive outside readings assigned from journals including: JPEN, JAND, AJCN, BJN, etc.

Recommended Resource Materials/Online Access

- Medical dictionary, medical abbreviations, laboratory values, food composition, pharmacology reference

Expectations for Classroom Discussions

This is a graduate course and, therefore, class discussions build on information learned in undergraduate nutrition and disease, physiology, biochemistry, and metabolism. You will be expected to review your undergraduate material and read assigned material before coming to class.

Class Attendance and Demeanor

Due to the practical nature of the lecture material and the problem-solving skills developed during the classes, material presented and discussed during class cannot be replaced with assigned readings, therefore class attendance is required. Students are expected to attend all class sessions, arrive on time and be present for the entire class. For more information about attendance and excused absences please see: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies>. Please, notify the instructor about your situation as soon as possible, leaving a message if necessary (by text message, email or voice mail). Students are expected to show courtesy to their classmates, instructors and guest speakers by silencing cell phones before the class begins and refraining from engaging in activities such as checking social media/emails during classes.

Our class sessions may be audio-visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

If you experience technical/connection issues during class, you are advised to contact the instructor at 352 226 1773.

Student Evaluation

Each year assignments are returned to students. You may want to keep your work to prepare for clinical rotations or the registration exam. Please do not give these items to future students in this class. Do not review students' work from previous years. Grades will not be curved. Students receiving a grade less than a B will not be allowed to advance to the Dietetic Internship.

Distribution of points (Assignments will be posted on Canvas):

Evidenced-based MNT Presentations (3 at 25 points each)	75
Hot Topics in MNT (5 at 5 points each)	25

Attendance and Make-Up Work

Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments and other work are consistent with university policies. Click here to read the university attendance policies.

Online Course Evaluation Process

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

Academic Honesty

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, "We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Click here to read the Conduct Code. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g., assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action.

Software Use

All faculty, staff and students of the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.

In-Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Services for Students with Disabilities

The Disability Resource Center coordinates the needed accommodations of students with disabilities. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center. Click here to get started with the Disability Resource Center. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.
