Course Description and Prerequisites: The course contents cover the metabolism, requirements, deficiencies, and excesses of nutrients, as well as how nutrient deficiencies and excesses result in metabolic abnormalities. Essential micronutrients will be covered with the greatest emphasis on vitamins and minerals. Nutrient utilization will be traced from the food source to digestion and absorption, transport, storage, and excretion. The metabolic pathway dependent on specific nutrients and the amounts required will be evaluated. Concepts related to reducing the risk for chronic diseases and birth defects will be highlighted. The validity of health claims for key nutrient supplements will be critiqued by evaluating the metabolic basis and current research.

This class is designed such that students are engaged in interactive and experiential learning to build problem-solving skills. It consists of lecturing and problem-based learning activities, during which students exercise critical thinking and solve problems with evidence-based rationales.

Prerequisites: BCH 3025 or BCH 4024; PET 2350C or PCB 4723C

Course Learning Objectives: By the end of this course, students will be able to

1. Describe the role of each nutrient in their respective metabolic pathway.
2. Explain the mechanisms of digestion and absorption for each nutrient.
3. Interpret deficiency and toxicity symptoms associated with each nutrient.
4. Examine published research on human nutrition and metabolism.
5. Formulate evidence-based rationales to address questions.

This course uses the Canvas system to post class materials and scores for quizzes, exams and assignments. Access to e-Learning requires a Gatorlink account. To establish a Gatorlink account, go to <http://www.gatorlink.ufl.edu/>. Once you have created an account, access the e-learning homepage at <http://elearning.ufl.edu/>. Continue with e-Learning Login using your Gatorlink ID.

Class Format: In person. This class fosters an atmosphere of interactive learning where students exercise critical thinking, applying knowledge and facts to solving complex problems. Pre-class materials (e.g., slides, chapters, or current research/review articles) will be posted at Canvas. Students will complete studying the pre-class materials to be ready for in-class discussion and problem-solving activities.

Textbook: (Optional) Advanced Nutrition and Human Metabolism, 7th Ed., Wadsworth Cengage Learning, 2018.

Attendance and Make-Up Work: In accordance with the University of Florida's policy: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/attendance-policies/>, class attendance and participation are mandatory. Students will behave in an appropriate manner in class, taking care not to disrupt other students' learning activities. Students are asked to be punctual and submit assignments on time. Make-up work and assignments are consistent with university policies.

COVID-related Practices

A COVID "clearance" status is critical for the class to perform well. Please do not come to the class if you feel unwell or sick. UF Health recommends wearing masks indoors, and the more form-fitting KN95 or N95 pouches instead of looser blue surgical or cloth masks enhance protection. If you are experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, click on the links below for guidance from the CDC and UF Health: <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/symptoms-testing/symptoms.html>; please use the UF Health screening system and follow the instructions on whether you are able to attend class. Click here <https://coronavirus.ufhealth.org/screen-test-protect/covid-19-exposure-and-symptoms-who-do-i-call-if/> for UF Health guidance on what to do if you have been exposed to or are experiencing Covid-19 symptoms.

Student Evaluation:

The assessments will be comprised of 24 assignments (2 points each), 4 closed-book exams (56 points each), an outreach project (100 points), and class participation (28 points). The assignments will be administered via Canvas and due before each class starts. The exams will be timed (50 min) and must be taken when scheduled. Each exam contains 22 'choose an answer among multiple choices' questions and 3 short-answer questions. The outreach project consists of 4 sections, and the detailed instructions and grading rubrics will be posted at Canvas. Class participation is highly valued and will be graded according to class attendance and contribution to class activities and discussions (see the grading rubrics on the next page).

Make-up assignments will NOT be given. However, three assignments grades can be dropped without penalty, and twenty-one assignment grades will be counted towards the final grade. A missed assignment will count as the dropped assignment. Any other (>3) missed assignments will result in a grade of "0" unless there are unavoidable extenuating circumstances (subject to our discretion) that can be documented to our satisfaction. Extenuating circumstances include unavoidable, unplanned situations such as illness (chart note from physician or clinic; vague notes such as "was seen" are not acceptable); family death (dated obituary); accident (police report); or an interview at a professional school (official invitation), etc. An excused, documented absence from a quiz will result in the grade for the missed quiz being calculated as the average of the other quiz grades.

Make-up exam will NOT be given. Exams must be taken when scheduled. Absence from an exam will result in a grade of "0" unless there are unavoidable extenuating circumstances (subject to our discretion) that can be documented to our satisfaction, as described above. An excused, documented absence from an exam will result in the grade for the missed exam being calculated as the average of the other exam grades.

Instructor-Initiated Recording of Class: Our class sessions may be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

In-class Recording by Students: Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor. A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third-party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

Lecture materials and other information are the property of the University of Florida and the course instructor and may not be used for any commercial purpose. Students found in violation may be subject to disciplinary action under the University’s Student Conduct Code. Only students formally registered for the course are permitted to attend lectures and take exams.

We the members of the University of Florida community pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Academic Honesty

As a student at the University of Florida, you have committed yourself to uphold the Honor Code, which includes the following pledge: “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.” You are expected to exhibit behavior consistent with this commitment to the UF academic community, and on all work submitted for credit at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.”

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g. assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see: <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code>.

Use of artificial intelligence (AI) tools: Note that the accuracy and credibility of information from AI-based platforms (e.g., ChatGPT) have been questioned. If students use AI tools to prepare their assignments, it is the students’ responsibility to ensure the information credibility, acknowledge the AI assistance and sources, and abide by the UF Honor Code. AI tools are not allowed for closed-book quizzes or exams.

Services for Students with Disabilities: The Disability Resource Center coordinates the needed accommodations of students with disabilities. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. Students requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. Contact information: 0001 Reid Hall, 352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/

Campus Resources: Students experiencing crises or personal problems that interfere with their general wellbeing are encouraged to utilize the university's counseling resources. The Counseling & Wellness Center provides confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance.

Course Evaluation: Student assessment of instruction is an important part of efforts to improve teaching and learning. At the end of the semester, students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course using a standard set of university and college criteria. Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at:

<https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at: <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

Software Use: All faculty, staff and students at the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.

Email: Students are required to check their email account(s) daily (at least Monday through Friday) and respond to course/program related requests, inquiries, etc. in a timely manner.
